The Motor

of the Automobile.

Local Chevrolet Agent Gives Reasons for Buying Car With Good Motor.

"It is the motor that makes the automobile from the standpoint of utility," says Delia Finney, local dealer in Chevrolet passenger and commercial cars. "Handfuls of dollars may be spent on body comfort and appearance but in the end the enjoyment of a car is limited by the worth of the motor."

Just as the heart is the center of a human body, so the motor is the heart of an automobile. It makes it go. It is the motor that gives it a strong heart. It is generally capable of doing big physical things. The ordinary motor is very weak and has less than it needs to run him out. He has endurance. He lives long and is fit.

Just like the human mind the capacity of a car for hard service and the length of that service depend on the character of its motor.

Is because so many people fail to grasp this important point that they make so many costly experiments before finding out motor satisfaction.

It is because of this that so many makes of automobiles are permitted to flourish on the sale strength of attractive surface features, induce public opinion and then fail.

On the other hand the most successful cars are those whose motor has stood up to the tests of time. They are the kind in which the motor has been the first consideration. Then the rest of the car has been built to fit the power of the motor.

In such cases the motor is not taxed by unnecessary weight, strength and flexibility have taken the place of bulk. And the result is greater driving comfort, endurance, freedom from repairs, and far more power at less cost for fuel.
